

The Daily Courant

Friday, November 15. 1717.

From the Paris Gazette, dated Nov. 20.

Naples, October 19.

THE Count de Thaurour Viceroy has received Advice from Vienna, that four Imperial Regiments who were in Croatia, have received Orders to march to Fiume, in Order to be transported into this Kingdom. But they cannot arrive very soon, seeing that both Ships and Convoy are wanting, and apparently they must wait till the Ships and Gallies which carried the Troops to Sardinia, and to the Places of Tuscany, are return'd. The Pope's Gallies after having stop'd some time at Messina, arriv'd in the Port of Baya the 16th of this Month, and when they have taken in the Provisions they wait, are to pursue their Voyage to Civita Vecchia. Besides what the Royal Chamber had resolv'd, of employing a third Part of all Pensions and Gratifications in the publick Service, an Order is come from Vienna for retrenching another third Part. A Bull is published here, whereby the Pope has granted the raising of the Temples Ecclesiastical Revenues for five Years, for the Service of the War. Upon the Complaints that have been made of Extortions at the Custom-house, the Viceroy has order'd, that the Tariff of Duties upon all sorts of Merchandize shall be engrav'd upon Marble Tables, to the End that the Publick may be fully acquainted with it, and be no longer expos'd to such Vexations.

The 10th of this Month, several Ships arriv'd here from the Levant, and among the rest, one come from Cyprus, who touch'd at Zante, and the Captain made reports, that the Generalissimo with the Ships and Gallies were there when he came away. But on the 25th, a Courier arriv'd from Corfu with Letters of the 10th Instant, which say, that the Generalissimo with the Gallies and light Ships were arriv'd there, and that the Men of War remain at Zante. Upon the Advice of the Motion the Ottoman Fleet had made, (being unable to keep the Sea between Modon and Sapienza, by reason of the violent Winds) two Corvettes have been detach'd to follow them, one whereof left them in the Gulf of Napoli di Romania, and the other observ'd them further, so that it is believ'd they are return'd to Constantinople. The Generalissimo being inform'd of this, call'd a Council of War, wherein it was resolv'd to attempt the Conquest of Preveza and Volviza, because the taking of those two Places will cover the Island of St. Maura on the Land side. With this Design many Battering Cannons and Mortars, with all necessary Provisions, and a Body of Troops, were embark'd for this Enterprize; the command whereof was given to General Schuylenburg. At the same time the Men of War remaining at Zante, will advance on that side, to fight any Turkish Squadron that may attempt to oppose it. Letters from Dalmatia confirm the Advice of the March of General Moeenigo with the Troops, to attack Antivari, and they have already taken Possession of some Posts thereabouts, by which the Turks might have attempt'd to have thrown Succours into the Place. And we hear that the Transport Ships upon which the Artillery Ammunition and part of the Troops were embark'd, have landed them at Budua. They write from Brescia, that many German Officers have pass'd by there going to the Milanese, and they said that three Regiments of Imperial Cavalry are coming into the Milanese and the Mantuana. They continue to make Levies in the Country, for reinforcing the Garrisons of those two Places, especially the last, where great Magazines are to be laid up against Spring.

From the Amsterdam Gazette, dated Nov. 19.

Venice, Nov. 6. According to the Advice we have by a Ship from Ragusa, the Provosts

General of Dalmatia was arriv'd with his Army before Antivari. Our Grand Fleet is still at Zante, and the Captain General Pisani, with the Gallies and light Ships at Corfu, being detain'd there by contrary Winds, which have hinder'd them from sailing to Preveza.

Amsterdam, Nov. 11. The Governour of Philipsburg has written a letter to the Diet, signifying that he has made the Reparations that were most immediately necessary, in the Fortifications of that Place, and that with 20000 Florins more, the whole may be finish'd. He demands also the necessary Provision for maintaining the Garrison, which consists of 500 Men. The Electoral Court of Saxony have made Complaints to the Diet against that of Denmark, on Occasion of some Buildings situat upon the Elbe, belonging to Saxons, which has been seiz'd by the Danes.

Hamburg, Nov. 12. We see here the following Regulation of the King of Sweden concerning Privateers, which has been lately publish'd at Lunden in Schonen.

HIS Majesty having declar'd by his Edict of the 14th of May, 1716, that what he had regulat'd relating to Privateers, concerns only the Ships which go to the Ports of his Enemies in the Baltick and West Seas, or come from thence, but not the Ships of neutral Nations, which navigate to neutral Parts of the West Sea, or come from thence: And it being necessary to know how those neutral Ships shall be distinguish'd which are not sailing to Enemies Ports. Care ought to be taken, that all those Ships which sail towards Ports on this Side the Dogger Sand, which are near the Enemy, or come from the said Ports, be furnish'd with the due Documents prescrib'd in the said Regulation of Privateers. But the neutral Ships which come from beyond the Dogger Sand, or go thither, and which shall not be suspected of intending to trade in the Enemies Ports, shall not need to be furnish'd with those Documents. Nevertheless, for being distinguish'd from Enemies Ships, they shall be oblig'd to have an authentick Passport, with a Certificate of the respective Voyages they are to make: And to make appear by their Bills of Lading, that the Ships and their Cargoes belong not to the Enemy. Sign'd,

CHARLES R.

From the Hague Courant, dated Nov. 19.

Jamaica, Aug. 29. Altho' the Pyrate Ships have for the most part left these Seas, the Fleet of Merchant-men, consisting of 20 Ships, bound for London and Bristol, which are to sail to Morrow, will be convoy'd by two Men of War.

From the Amst. Courant, dated Nov. 18.

Amsterdam, Nov. 17. The Ship of Captain Elias Petersz, sailing from hence for the Island of St. Thomas, met in the Latitude of 23 Deg. under the Tropic of Cancer, a Pyrate Ship of 26 Guns, which came from the Newfoundland Fishery, where they had robb'd and plunder'd several Ships. This Pyrate set upon his Ship, plunder'd and ruin'd the whole lading, and robb'd the Men of all they had, even to their very Shoes. And they understood, that they were the 82d Ship these Rogues had seiz'd for. And afterwards when they were at Anchor under the Island Nevis, the same Pyrate came up with them; but finding it to be the same Ship they had already plunder'd, made off.
